Annual Meeting B. of T. Talk on World Conference

The annual meeting of the Wetaskiwin Board of Trade, held at the Driad hotel on Monday evening, was one of the best of the year, as a very thoughtful and pointed address was given by Mr. H. M. E. Evans of Edmonton, on the World Economic Conference. Charts were displayed showing business conditions from the years 1925 to 1931 and the effect of the depression had on the different branches of trade and commerce during that period. Great Britain was the only nation to succeed in balancing the budget, and we can look to her to lead the world out of the chaotic condition we are in today. The managers of five big banking institutions in England report a slight improvement in 1932 over 1931. France has more gold than any other nation in the world, including the United States. In 1932 there was only 91% of the world's normal commodities on hand, while in 1931 there was 213% or over two year's supply.

Technocracy did not commence in 1928, but has been gradually developing for many years. During the past couple of years it has made rapid growth, and this state of affairs makes it all the more difficult to bring about a readjustment. When the U.S. received large quantities of gold and undertook to become the world's banker, it started speculation, and the present crashes of the banks is the effect. There have been many depressions in the past from which the world has recovered, and no doubt the world will recover from this one.

Today unemployment in the world has reached about thirty million workers; gold has declined; in Winnipeg wheat fell to the lowest point in four centuries; world stocks have increased; industrial concerns at the end of 1932 were operating only ten per cent capacity; and the world trade was about one-third of what it was in 1929. The speaker hoped the disarmament conference to be held in a few weeks would succeed in adjusting the war debts, and that the economic conference to be held later would be successful in working out some plan which would ultimately bring about normal conditions.

Canada should have a central bank to set up machinery for the handling of national business, which would standardize monetary transactions throughout the dominion, and avoid any experiments which might be made by individual provinces.

John Blue, secretary of the Edmonton chamber of commerce, also spoke briefly, advocating that the gold standard be maintained as the medium of exchange between the countries of the world, and gave several reasons why.

Godfrey Baker, secretary-treasurer, presented the financial statement showing the total revenue for the year as $226,500, with a credit balance of $870. He also spoke of some of the activities of the board during the year, which included the organization of the school fair by the agricultural committee headed by Roy Ballhorn; the sponsoring of a seed fair with which was associated the exhibit of the junior grain growing club; the sponsoring of the junior swine club, and the junior grain judging competition. As a result of the board's promotion of these activities Ed. Soderstrom won fame at the Chicago exhibition, and Gordon Ballhorn won 4th prize in the provincial grain judging competition and is in the running to be one of Alberta's contestants at the world's grain fair at Regina this year.

The nominating committee submitted a slate of officers for 1933 as follows, which was unanimously adopted:

President—B. S. Wallis.
Vice-President—Godfrey Baker.
Chairmen of Committees—Finance, C. C. Watson; agricultural, B. R. Rasmussen; trade and commerce, W. F. H. Montgomery; sports, H. E. Chalmers; publicity, Curt Smith; roads, C. Isaacson; entertainment, C. W. Walin.

Democratic leaders at Washington computed that the United States had lost $250,000,000 in possible trade through Canada's adoption of the imperial trade agreements, and an American-Canadian pact was believed to be a likely next move.

PONOKA ORGANIZE COMMUNITY LEAGUE

For a long time back it has been felt that something should be done with a view to creating interest in the welfare of Ponoka and district among the citizens, with the result that a very fine "get-together" took place in the town hall Thursday evening.

Mr. J. W. Lee, who took a leading hand in promoting the idea, was asked to detail the aims and objects of the gathering. This he did, pointing out that something must be done to awaken interest, not only in town council affairs, but in many other diverse subjects.

The meeting was thrown open for discussion and suggestions, and it did not take long to see that some one thing had to be done. The matter of organizing was taken up with the result that the following gentlemen were chosen to head the movement: President, H. H. Hall; 1st vice-president, M. Green; secretary, J. C. Matheson; committee, G. E. Bowker, J. W. Lee and H. B. Stewart.

CROP LOANS FOR UNITED STATES FARMERS

United States government has appropriated $30,000,000 to loan to needy farmers for the growing of 1933 crops. The secretary of agriculture will require a restriction in production amounting to as much as 30% in return for the loan. The maximum loan to any farmer will be $800. While inspectors will not be hired to see that the borrowers reduce their acreage, the farmer who breaks his promise will be taking chances. The Act provides stiff penalties for misrepresentation on loan applications. Fine of a thousand dollars or six months in jail, or both, may be imposed.

LEGISLATURE DEFEATS UNIFORM SCHOOL PLAN BY TWO VOTE MARGIN

Edmonton, Feb. 25.—Breaking party lines, members of the legislature, in the second division of the present session, on Friday defeated a resolution which proposed that steps be taken to bring about uniform school courses in Western Canada. The resolution was defeated by the narrow margin of only two votes, there being 23 in favor and 24 against.

Moved by Hector Lang (Liberal), Medicine Hat, the resolution was supported by most of those on the opposition side, made up of Liberals, Conservatives, Labor and Independents, with the exception of Dr. W. A. Atkinson (Conservative). Edmonton, it was also supported by five members on the government side. These members were A. M. Matheson, Vegreville; S. A. Carson, Sturgeon; R. M. McNeil, Cochrane; F. S. Grisdale, Olds; and J. J. McLeannan, Taber.

George Hooley, while Col. E. C. Jamieson, Conservative, who would have opposed the resolution was paired with W. E. Payne, Conservative.

Jensen rendered a vocal solo, both of which were enjoyed. Mr. Sanderson gave a talk on education, which was very interesting and instructive. After a hearty vote of thanks had been extended to those taking part in the program, tea was served by Mrs. Rodell and Mrs. Knowlton.

POET AND AIRPLANES 140 YEARS AGO

In 1793 a poem was published by Erasmus Darwin, a forebear of the great Charles Darwin, entitled "The Botanic Garden." In it he predicts not only locomotives and steamers, but ships carrying passengers, and airplanes loaded with soldiers, coming as darkening clouds to be here. It is one of the most remarkable instances of prophetic foresight. Here are the lines:

"Soon shall thine arm, resistless steam afar,
Drag the slow barge, and drive the bear
On wide-waving wings expanded
The flying chariot through the field of air.
Fair crests triumphant leaning from above,
Shall wave their fluttering kerchiefs as they move,
Or warrior hands alarm the gaping crowd,
And armies shrink beneath the shadowy cloud."

VEXING QUESTION OF TEACHERS PAY

Is a failure to get a raise, the equivalent of a cut? The A.T.A. has presented one great obstacle to reduction of salaries, but chooses to base the percentage of reduction, on the salaries that teachers would have been getting if they had received their normal raises from year to year up to the maximum.

With special reference to a continuing debate between Lethbridge School Board and A.T.A., the Board favors a cut on present salary. The A.T.A., on the other hand, favors a cut from the salary that teachers would have been receiving had no reductions been made. It is an interesting point.

For instance, a teacher receiving $1,500 at present would have been receiving $1,700 had no reductions been made from schedule. The board's suggestion, if put into effect, would give her $1,300, while the A.T.A. suggested $1,445. This amount, they figure was a 15 per cent reduction.

Present salaries of all teachers totalled $65,030, while the board's suggestion would lower them to $57,630, a saving of $7,400. The A.T.A.'s suggested salaries would total $63,179, a saving of only $1,851.

Discussion centred on the basis by which Calgary and Edmonton boards effect reductions.

Calgary—$1,000 and under, 5 per cent; up to $1,500, a 10 per cent; up to $2,000, a 12 per cent; 16 per cent on those over $3,000; increases allowed.

Edmonton—All salaries reduced 8 per cent with no cut below $1200; increases allowed.

A.T.A. proposal—$1,000 no cut; up to $1,500 a 13 per cent cut; up to $1,700, 15 per cent cut; $1,800 a 16 per cent cut. Increases allowed.

"Therefore be it resolved that until such time as there is a guarantee of security of tenure for a farmer in his home and equipment, we use the machinery of our local to boycott all forced sales, using all the moral persuasive powers of our organization, to the end that all such sales shall be discontinued; and further that our officers be empowered to take such action as they deem necessary to this end."—U.F.A.

Address by H. J. Montgomery, Member for Wetaskiwin, on the Speech From the Throne

The following is a verbatim report of the address delivered in the Alberta Legislature last week on the Speech from the Throne by the member for Wetaskiwin:

It is with a feeling of tenacity that I rise to participate in this debate after hearing the addresses of Honorable gentlemen on the government side of the House and those in the Labor section expounding their pet theories in a most interesting way, dealing with ancient and modern history, theories and evolutions and taking us away up in the clouds with their enthusiasm. I hesitate to come down to earth and endeavor to discuss in a practical way some of the problems facing us as a Province and venturing to suggest anything that might assist us in carrying on during these trying times. Something that might be of immediate benefit to the people of this province.

I enjoyed their speeches very much. They impressed me as being honest in their convictions, and whether we agree with them or not they have a perfect right to give expression to their views on the floor of this House.

First of all I wish to express my sincere regret at the passing of Hon. Mr. Smith, Minister of Railways and Telephones. No member of this legislature, no Minister of the Crown stood in higher esteem and respect among his fellow members than Mr. Smith. Quiet, unassuming, courteous and obliging he was ready at all times to render assistance and impart information to members on this side of the House in equal measure to those of his political allies, and no matter how much we disagreed with some of his policies regarding matters of telephone administration, we admired his courageous attitude and his fearless stand in support of these policies, and unlike some of us, he never rose to his feet unless he had something of importance to say, and he was always listened to with close attention. His loss is keenly felt in this Legislature and must have been a stunning blow to his fellow members in the cabinet. Of him it can truly be said, "Well done, good and faithful servant."

We will miss our genial friend Dr. McGill, one of Calgary's members who has gone to his reward, and who now occupies an important and responsible position with the Dominion Government, and we believe he will make a capable and efficient administrator.

To the successors of these two members I extend a most hearty welcome. That they will materially add to the debating strength of this Assembly I feel assured. The new member from Calgary, Mr. Hindesley, comes to us with a splendid reputation as a shrewd business man, a keen student of public affairs and we look forward with pleasure to his contributions in this legislature.

The new member from Camrose, Mr. Ronning, made a most favorable impression in his first address and after he loses some of his enthusiasm for the C.C.F. policies which for good or evil can only be brought into effect in the dim distant future, and comes down to earth to deal in a practical way with the immediate solving of some of the problems that confront the people of Alberta, problems brought about to some extent at least, by the policies of the present Government. I believe, with his ability, he can be of valuable assistance to the members of this legislature. In his first address he advocated the socialization or Government ownership and operation of all lands, banks and credits, means of production and distribution. When he said, were the policies of the C. C. F. and the U.F.A. and he hailed the C.C.F. colors to the U. F. A.

most. I would strongly advise him to study the various attempts at socialization or Government ownership by this Province since 1906 and learn of the failures of each and every one of them and the tremendous loss to the people of the Province as a consequence of these attempts. Losses that will take years to liquidate and will be an added burden by way of taxation for years to come. After he has made this study he will be bold indeed if he can rise in his place in this House and advocate socialization of anything.

The business of Government is to govern, and if I mistake not there is a growing feeling throughout the province that the government should not engage in other activities. The liquor business is the one outstanding exception, but the very nature of the business places it in the category of government control and operation. The Telephone problem and Co-operative Credit Societies situation are striking examples of an attempt at socialization of business and of banking and credits. In good times they may break even, but under conditions make immense losses inevitable. The government through legislative enactment make it as easy as possible for private enterprise to succeed while at the same time exacting a reasonable tribute in the way of taxation to assist in carrying on the duties of Government.

The Camrose member told the House that he was the first Norwegian to occupy a seat in the Legislature of Alberta. If he refers to the country of Norway he may be correct, but if he intended to take in the Scandinavian countries then I would call his attention to the fact that for one term Mr. Charles H. Olin, a native son of Sweden, ably represented the Wetaskiwin constituency in this legislature.

I am honored by having in my constituency a large number of the patriots of the Member from Camrose. They take second place to none of any of our people. They have cleared up the brush land and built splendid homes, and I doubt very much if they will subscribe to the new U.F.A. and C.C.F. policy which would take their homes for them. A policy so ably expounded by the Camrose member.

I will instance one relation to this policy recently brought to my attention. A successful farmer in the Wetaskiwin district heard over the radio during the Calgary election of this policy of Government ownership of land. He immigrated to this country many years ago from Central Europe to make a home for himself and family in this new country and succeeded splendidly. After listening to the U.F.A. plan to socialize land he regretted that he had paid his taxes for last year. If the Government was going to take his land he did not intend to pay further taxes. You can thus see the effect of this dangerous doctrine, and if this intention to refrain from paying taxes becomes general our municipalities will be seriously handicapped in carrying on their affairs.

I regret very much the absence through illness from this House of Premier Brownlee, and sincerely hope that he will soon be able to occupy his seat. If there was ever a time in the history of the Province that leadership was needed it is now, and with all due respect to the other members of the Government, the members of the Liberal party at least feel that his strong guiding hand should be at the helm and he only can control and keep in subjection the advocates of this new social order, which in effect means the scrapping of the U.F.A. political party and substituting therefor the C. C. F. ideals that in the opinion of many will finish the wrecking process started by the U.F.A. Government.

We have just listened to a two hours speech by the Minister of Education. It was a real vaudeville show and for satire, sarcasm and biting comment it would be hard to equal. Mr. Hector Charlesworth, chairman of the Canadian Broadcasting Commission, recently made the statement that there were no radio comedians or funny men in Canada. He never saw our Minister of Education in action or he would not insult Canada like that again. We expected more from the Minister. He is the head of one of the most important departments of the Government and we looked for a discussion of educational matters, but outside of a mere mention of the Camrose Normal not a word did he say about his department. We just had a trustee's convention in Edmonton. They were serious men on serious business, and they discussed and adopted many important resolutions. They asked for a reduction in the minimum salary for teachers. They wished to be able to terminate a contract on 30 days' notice by either teacher or trustees. They did not see any necessity for a Board of Reference and in the matter of teachers' contracts they wanted no interference by inspectors. Then there was the problem of keeping rural schools open especially in the outlying districts that the Minister might have spoken about. We would have liked to hear something about the threatened reduction in school grants that it is reported the Government is considering. Also an explanation of the Western Universities are trying to accomplish in the way of consolidating their studies with a view to greater economy and efficiency. Then there are educational matters in general that the members and public would be interested in. But not one word did the Minister say about these things. That is the way we were treated by the Minister of Education, the first member of the cabinet to speak in this debate.

Since the close of the last Session we learned by press reports that the Government negotiated a loan for $5,000,000 in London at a very high rate of interest. This news came to us as a great surprise, for the premier at the last session promised us that it would not be necessary to borrow further money on capital account for two or three years. Yet within a very few weeks after the House adjourned last year this new loan was made. We are curious to learn why this promise was violated. The Government are certainly in order and will be anxiously awaited. Speaking about financial matters, I notice that Alberta is receiving much unenviable publicity from financial papers, influential magazines and prominent financial circles all over the Dominion, all commenting on the serious position this province is in on account of the tremendous debt and high taxation, and holding Alberta up as a terrible example to the rest of the Canadian provinces. It is time the Government woke up to a realization of the situation. For the last two Sessions at least, the Liberal opposition have been winning the Government where they were heading for, but little head was paid to our representations, and the people of Alberta are now paying the penalty of the extravagance of the government.

I wish to refer for a few moments to the administration of the Debt Adjustment Act. I do not wish to cast any reflection on the ability of those engaged in this work, but as present constituted the best results cannot be obtained, the cost of operation is mounting rapidly and the revenue cannot begin to meet operating expenses. The loss in this respect for 1932 being about $53,000.00. The work of the Board is entirely too much centralized, which means lack of knowledge of conditions distant from Edmonton and Calgary, expense to applicants and others living at a distance who have to attend at these offices and entirely inadequate supervision or oversight of the business of certificate holders and the best results are not being obtained. I believe the Act is being abused and that many are applying for and receiving certificates who are not entitled to them.

Some are seeking the protection of the Act with the intention of defrauding their creditors. Others thresh a big crop, dispose of it, neglect to pay their bills and then apply to come under the Act. One weakness of the Act appears to be that it is too easy for applicants to procure certificates and no attempt is made to arrive at an arrangement with his creditors so that a man could carry on without trying himself hand and foot as he is compelled to do if he comes under the provisions of the Act. He practically signs his soul away and the only commodities he is allowed to dispose of and turn the proceeds to his own use are the milk from a few cows and the eggs from a few hens. The proceeds of the sale of all his other products, grain and livestock, are supposed to be remitted to the Board for distribution among his creditors or to pay his operating expenses, so that a man virtually becomes a vassal of the Board. I wonder if this would be the position of every individual if the policies of the C.C.F. were brought into effect.

Then again a very striking instance of weakness in the Act is the lack of inspection or supervision of certificate holders who can result in the juggling of his returns and the disappearance of grain and chattels and the consequent loss to his creditors. I do not blame those administering the Act for this condition. It is a weakness of the present system, and the costs of an inspection service to holders of any value might eat up all the returns or at least be so high as to be impracticable. Further, no attempt is apparently made to make voluntary adjustments of either interest rates or indebtedness, a very necessary procedure in some cases.

These are some of the weaknesses that occur to me of the present Act as now administered.

The Government has announced a revision and consolidation of the Debt Adjustment Act. What the new provision will be we do not know, but I believe little change is necessary in order to make it of real service to both debtor and creditor.

Therefore on behalf of the Liberal Party I propose to make the following suggestions to this House with the hope and anticipation that they will meet with the approval of the Members, and any change necessary to give them legal enactment can be incorporated in the new Bill.

My first suggestion is that the work of the Board be decentralized so that the offices will be opened at central points throughout the Province. We might take the centres of Judicial Districts as suitable points and the Clerks of the Court could act as Debt Adjusters in their respective offices. These officials are generally men of mature age and judgment, legal training and experience, and at least outside of Edmonton and Calgary have plenty of time to devote to these duties. There would be no expense for offices and very little if any expense for salaries, as they are now salaried men in the employ of the Government. They know their districts well and are meeting debtors and creditors constantly. They sit in the courts and hear the cases argued there and in addition they have a general experience with bankruptcy matters. The machinery is all set up and we are paying for it already and the large expense of carrying on the Debt Adjustment offices in Calgary and Edmonton would be very greatly reduced if not entirely eliminated.

If there were other important points in the Province that would not be served in a plan of this kind some suitable man at a small remuneration could do no doubt be secured.

Now as I see it, the advantages of a proposition of this kind would be many fold. There would be first hand knowledge by the adjuster of many applicants and a general knowledge of them all. A meeting should be arranged between the debtor and his creditors in the adjuster's office to talk over his affairs and decide on what was the best procedure to take. I firmly believe that if a meeting of this kind was held an arrangement could be mutually decided on in a great majority of the cases that would make it unnecessary for the applicant to need temporary protection from any of his creditors the adjuster should be able to furnish it.

At the conclusion of negotiations if the adjuster decided that an applicant was entitled to a certificate the creditors could appoint one or more of their number to act as inspectors who would not only keep track of the man's affairs but might also assist him throughout the year in the carrying on of his operations, if they considered it advisable to do so. These inspectors would no doubt be local men and would act without remuneration. We would then have the personal sympathetic touch that is so sadly lacking under the present administration of the Act. The local adjuster could receive and distribute the proceeds of the crop and if the farmer needed part of the funds for his own living expenses he could get it at once instead of waiting for days or weeks for it as he now has to do. This delay probably more than anything else, is the cause of the disappearance of some of the crop.

Then again, and this is most important, the adjuster where necessary could endeavor to effect a voluntary adjustment from year to year of interest rates and payments. I say from year to year, for if conditions improve the rate might vary. He might also effect a voluntary adjustment of indebtedness if it was apparent that it was advisable in the interests of all concerned that this step should be taken. We might even go further and provide in the Act that when a substantial majority of the creditors representing a substantial majority of the indebtedness are favorable to an adjustment of the mortgage companies are making wholesale foreclosures on city property, one half of the 18 notices of foreclosure actions in four days. They may be doing this to forestall any new debt adjustment legislation, and these people in their homes must receive reasonable protection under the provisions of the new Act.

These are some of the advantages that I have thought of. There may be many more, but of this I feel confident, that it would result in the necessity of only a small percentage of applicants being issued certificates, and the result is that our highways are being cut up and destroyed and immense sums are necessary to be spent to maintain them properly. There appears to be no proper control or inspection of these trucks, and practically nothing is done to check up the weights they are carrying. The Government went to some considerable expense in purchasing suitable scales for this purpose, but we never heard of them being put into use. Surely this is bad management on the part of the department. It appears to me that the whole matter of checking of weights and that of carrying capacities should be fully gone into and revised, and the gross weight reduced to something within reason. Then again, when the claim, while in a Large Debt claim the costs run up to $41.25, plus the bailiff's mileage in serving the papers. As the debtor eventually pays the costs, it is very necessary and fair to keep them as low as possible and under present conditions the costs for securing judgment for a little over $100 will amount to 50% of the claim. Then I would make the further suggestion that the Statute of Limitations be extended. Under the present law an account becomes outlawed in 6 years. This is entirely too short a time under present conditions when the debtor finds it impossible in many cases to pay his accounts and the only way a creditor can protect himself is to secure judgment at an eventual cost to himself or the debtor. He would prefer in certain accounts to let them run along at no further cost and it would be of advantage to all parties and the time was further extended.

The Speech from the Throne informs us that there will be a new Tax Consolidation Act introduced for our consideration at this Session. We passed such an Act last year, making it possible for Councils to wipe off a portion of the penalties and enter into agreements with tax delinquents to pay the arrears in five annual instalments. Just why it is found necessary to make a change so soon will no doubt be explained to us at the proper time and the Minister will no doubt inform us as to the principal changes contemplated. I just want to utter a warning to the Minister at this time that we must be very careful in drawing up the new act so that it will not embarrass municipalities financially. Some Municipal Districts do not need legislation of this kind. A reference to newspaper reports during the last few days show that a great number of Municipalities are in splendid financial shape. They are preparing to make further extensions in expenditure and intend to reduce the mill rate very considerably, and this new legislation must not interfere or handicap them in this endeavor. By making the adoption of the Act optional and only have those come under its provisions who make application to do so this danger will be largely eliminated. I hope the Minister will keep these suggestions in mind in framing the Act and I will discuss it more fully in second reading or in committee.

I want to mention briefly the important question of road maintenance. I intend to discuss this question in more detail later on in the Session. I wish at this time to criticize the Minister of Public Works for permitting, especially during the spring and summer, such tremendous heavy truck loads to operate on the highways. Loads up to a gross weight of 30,000 lbs. are allowed to be carried and small trucks are continually being grossly overloaded, and the result is that our highways are being cut up and destroyed and immense sums are necessary to be spent to maintain them properly. There appears to be no proper control or inspection of these trucks, and practically nothing is done to check up the weights they are carrying. The Government went to some considerable expense in purchasing suitable scales for this purpose, but we never heard of them being put into use. As Seen From the Gallery of the Alberta Legislature

The debate on the speech from the Throne was concluded on Thursday afternoon, the 2nd. All parties and groups of the House took part. The general impression was that the government forces for some reason or other did not show up very strong in the debate. The Premier through illness did not participate. It is generally felt that the forces of the government are not unanimous in their new alignment with the C. C. F. movement. When the government is referred to as the C.C.F. Government it is taken as a compliment by the extreme radicals of the U.F.A. and resented by the saner elements of the old U.F.A. movement which seems to be now dominated by the C.C.F.

Highlights During the Week

1. Hugh J. Montgomery of Wetaskiwin suggested the reorganization of the telephone system that it might be saved as an asset for the people of the province.

2. Dr. Atkinson described the C.C.F. movement as a "quack remedy" for the present economic conditions when speaking in the legislature on Tuesday.

3. Capt. H. H. Dakin on Tuesday on the floor of the legislature demanded a probe into the Liquor Control Board's handling of liquor samples. He charges that the names of persons to whom liquor was given for sampling purposes were not kept by the Board. Why, he asked, is it necessary to sample famous brands well known for their quality. The free liquor samples given to the government are estimated to be about $14,000.

4. Joseph Dechene, member for Beaver River, regretted that the tendency of the C.C.F. movement was to deprive the youth of the nation of the right of private ownership of their own homes.

5. Mr. Payne, member for Red Deer, took the Minister of Agriculture to task for permitting unnecessary waste by having numerous officials attend the various fairs.

6. John Irwin, member for Calgary, urged the appointment of a fair price licensing board was making an attack upon, "senseless corporations" during an address in the legislature on Friday.

7. J. J. Bowen, member for Calgary, brought to the attention of the legislature the fact that horses were doped at the Calgary and Edmonton race meets. He entered a strong protest.

8. The Liberal leader, W. R. Howson, was complimented by various speakers for his suggestion that there should be established by the government of the Dominion of Canada a Federal Bank under the Finance Act for the purpose of directing and controlling the issue of currency to assist the provinces and municipalities to finance at a minimum cost.

Co-operative marketing associations and pools have come in for a lot of healthy criticism. It appears that with all the money spent the Dairy Pool alone shows signs of making good. It is well to recall the words of Mr. Sapiro when he was here to assist in the organization of the Wheat Pool that governments and pools must be kept apart. This was the advice of a man who has made a life study of organizing co-operatives.

There is an old saying that while Rome burned Nero fiddled. The general impression seems to be growing around the Parliament buildings that while the government is fiddling the people are losing their homes through the lack of initiative on the part of the government to submit a solution to the many problems that face the people.

THADDAEUS.

Address by H. J. Montgomery

Government finds it necessary to prohibit the running of trucks for a few days on account of wet weather they should use some judgment, and not make such sweeping and general orders. Last summer when the first order was issued, it covered the smallest truck as well as the largest, with the result that farmers and others could not use their small trucks and cream trucks were also barred. Even empty trucks were not allowed on the road. It might not be necessary even to have the order effective on all highways, but just the ones most heavily travelled on.

However, the order that is causing the most criticism and one that is the most ill-advised and half baked is that which prohibits trucks from carrying passengers, and they are only allowed to take one assistant besides the driver. For large commercial class A trucks operating on the main highway between Edmonton and Calgary and intermediate points there may be some justification for such an order, but when it comes to farmers' trucks or class B trucks that generally are used out through the country, there is absolutely no reason why they should be included.

It is a common practice for the owner of a truck or some member of his family to take for a trip a number of his neighbors or friends. They may visit town or go to a dance, entertainment or picnic or meeting of some kind. Many farmers have only one truck. Probably they cannot afford to buy a car or if they have a car, are not in a position to buy a license for it, and are compelled to run the truck for regular family use. Yet this ridiculous and unfair order applies to them, and they are violating the law every time more than two are taken along on the trip. I now bring this condition of affairs to the attention of the Government, and request that immediate steps be taken to cancel the Order in Council as far as these trucks are concerned.

(The remainder of the address referring to the telephone department, and other matters, will be published next week.)

NEGLECT OF COMMON CONSTIPATION IS A SERIOUS MATTER

Prevent This Condition With Kellogg's ALL-BRAN

The first question your doctor asks is whether you are constipated or not. He knows that this condition may cause headaches, loss of appetite and energy, sleeplessness. It is often the starting point of serious disease.

You can prevent and relieve common constipation so easily. Just eat a delicious cereal once a day. Laboratory tests show that Kellogg's ALL-BRAN provides "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and vitamin B to further aid regular habits. ALL-BRAN is also a rich source of food-bulking iron.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that found in leafy vegetables. Within the body, it forms a soft mass. Gently, it clears out the intestinal wastes.

Isn't this "cereal way" safer and far more pleasant than taking patent medicines—so often harmful? Two tablespoonsful of ALL-BRAN daily are usually sufficient. With each meal in serious cases. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Enjoy ALL-BRAN as a cereal, or use in cooking. Get the red-and-green package at your grocer's. Made by Kellogg in London, Ont.

ON USING TOBACCO

There is an old saying, and a very true one, to the effect that what is one man's meat is another man's poison. This aphorism is most fittingly applicable in the case of tobacco.

Just as people differ in their physical make-up and in their mental outlook, so also may they differ in their response to foods, drugs, tobacco and other substances. This latter phenomena is spoken of as an idiosyncrasy.

No two persons are exactly alike. One person eats certain foods and digests them readily, while the same foods will cause a disturbance in another person. So it is with carbon monoxide, nicotine and certain coal-tar derivatives which are contained in, or are the products of tobacco smoke. Tolerance—the ability to use tobacco without discomfort—may be acquired fairly quickly in some cases, but more often, it takes years to make an individual a seasoned smoker.

It is a recognized fact that smoking causes a quickening of the pulse and a temporary increase in blood pressure. Digestion is slowed, and it is well-known that smoking destroys the feeling of hunger.

The extent to which these and other changes occur vary in different individuals, but in the majority of cases, none of them reach the stage where they may be said to cause concern. To those with a varying degree of hypersensitiveness or abnormal conditions of their bodies, the variations and the extent of their occurrence may be a real problem.

To the susceptible individual, over-indulgence in smoking may be manifested in many ways. It may be indicated by palpitation and rapid heart action—what is generally known as the "racing heart." The increase in blood pressure may give rise to pain in the chest, or contribute to dizziness, irritability and insomnia.

That period of extreme restlessness and tossing about, prior to sleeping, of which many people complain, can often be placed at the door of excessive smoking. The number of smokers with cough bears evidence to the irritating effect of smoking on the respiratory tract of some persons. This, if continued, may contribute to the occurrence of more distressing lung conditions.

The pleasure which smoking gives to many people is not to be denied. This pleasure would be enhanced were the bounds of moderation not overstepped.

Questions concerning health, addressed to the Canadian Medical Association, 184 College Street, Toronto, will be answered personally by letter.

NOT EXPLAINABLE

I received a letter some years ago containing this statement: "The longer I study mathematics the less I know about Women." Is it true that women follow no fixed rules of conduct and are erratic in their actions?

Thus I have observed that they will "haggle" over paying a very small bill for electricity and spend $5 the next day for a "permanent," when we all know there is no "permanent wave" in any hair except on the heads of a fortunate few and the unfortunate negro.

I have known the wives of negro janitors in the nation's capital to spend many dollars of their husband's meager salary to make their hair straight, and the whiter they could powder their faces the better pleased they were with themselves.

These women are only a few generations from the African jungles, and could be excused on that score for inheriting the desire for personal adornment from their savage ancestors.

What excuse can we find for our society belles for smearing their faces until they resemble scare-crows and spending more for cosmetics than for charity?

BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS

Eczema manifests itself in little round blisters which contain an extremely irritating fluid. They break, and subsequently a crust is formed, and the intense burning, itching and smarting is almost unbearable.

Burdock Blood Bitters is the remedy for giving relief to all such sufferers.

Mrs. H. J. Frost, R.R. 2, Belleville, Ont., writes:—"I was troubled with eczema on my face, in fact all over my body. It would raise up in water blisters, break and scab over which was very irritating.

A friend told me about Burdock Blood Bitters, and it proved of wonderful help to me."

MILLET

Another of the pioneer settlers of the community passed away at his home about twelve miles west of Millet on Friday last in the person of George Augustus Hollings, in his 89th year. He had been in poor health for some time, but withal maintained a cheerful disposition, and was always glad to see his friends. He was born in Germany and came to the Millet district about thirty years ago, taking a homestead in the heavily timbered district west of Millet, and through industry and thrift soon established a comfortable home for himself and family. He leaves a wife and grown-up family. The funeral took place on Sunday afternoon last, service being conducted at the late residence and in the United church, Millet, by Rev. H. G. Smith. There were many floral tributes, and a large number of his old friends and acquaintances were present to pay their last tribute to the interment took place in the Millet cemetery.

Last Friday night in Pinyon's hall, the C.G.I.T. Girls, Boy Scouts, Cubs, delighted a large audience with one of the best concerts that has been presented here in many months. The opening chorus "O Canada," by the above groups, started the proceedings, which was followed by a "How Do You Do" song. In which a number of local persons received particular mention. This appeared to put the audience in good mood and kept them so during the entire program, which consisted of several musical turns, dialogues, songs and plays. The C.G.I.T. girls in their "Camp Fire" songs, and in their pantomimes and the "Painting the Clouds With Sunshine" song, surely excelled themselves. In fact, every one who had a part did her or his part about as perfect as it was possible to do. The Junior quartette, who made their first appearance on a Millet stage, deserve considerable praise, and we hope to have the pleasure of hearing from them again in the near future. The C.G.I.T. girls were under the leadership and trained by Misses Lolita and Jean Foster, while the Scouts were under Scoutmaster E. Moore and the Cubs under Clayton Carney. After the concert, the Boy Scouts had arranged for a dance, music for which was furnished by Thorne's of Wetaskiwin.

The third of the series of card parties, put on by the Altar Society of St. Norbert's Church was held in Pinyon's hall, Tuesday evening, Feb. 21. A nice crowd was in attendance. Court whist was played until eleven o'clock, when lunch was served, after which the prizes were given out as follows: Gents first, Ted Mullen; consolation, P. McDougall; ladies, first, Mrs. J. P. Clark; consolation, Mrs. McManus. A dance followed, music being supplied by Mr. and Mrs. McDougall.

The U.F.W.A. held a card party at the home of Mrs. K. S. Sweeney evening. A good number attended, and all report a very pleasant time. Winners were: Ladies, Mrs. Ed. Pogue, consolation, Bill Corlett; men, Mr. Elsterbrook, consolation, Mr. L. Gray.

A large crowd attended St. John's Church on Sunday, to witness the presentation of a layman's license, granted by the Bishop of Edmonton, to Mr. J. M. Clark, of Millet. The certificate was presented by the Vicar, Rev. Elliott. Leduc Anglican girls' choir attended, with Mrs. Mien of Leduc, as organist.

A card party put on by the members of the Anglican Church Monday evening, Feb. 27th, was held at the home of Mrs. H. Brinker. There was a good attendance. Lunch was provided. A nice sum was realized for church funds. Winners of prizes were: Ladies' first, Mrs. D. Inglis; consolation, Miss Madege Plant. Men's first, Mr. Beecher; consolation, Leslie Beecher.

HILLSIDE

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Bolt and family were Wetaskiwin visitors on Saturday.
L. E. Marr met with a painful accident last week while oiling his pumping engine. His hand caught in the fly wheel and was badly cut.
The members of the W.I. are reminded of the meeting at Mrs. Dowler's, in Millet, on the 8th, when all quilt blocks will be handed in, and arrangements made for quilting.

Miss Kathleen Marr is visiting her sister, Miss Lella Marr, at Sunnybrook.

NOW IS THE TIME TO PLAN YOUR GARDEN

The season for indoor gardening is here! From now until the time when spring actually arrives, countless Canadians will spend hour after hour poring over the brilliantly illustrated pages of the seed catalogues, hoping for an early start and taster, mentally, of the delights which come to jaded appetites with the appearance of the first fresh vegetables of the year.

Then, there is the fun of planning the flower plot, an important first step and one which is best undertaken at this season of the year well in advance of the time when home gardeners can actually take to the yard with shovel, hoe, rake and trowel. Flower gardens, well planned ahead of the planting season, usually present the most beautiful arrangement as to height of the various plants and an assortment of varieties which bloom in succession so that the garden is never without flowers.

The annual catalogue of A. E. McKenzie Company Ltd., whose headquarters are Brandon, has just been mailed to customers throughout the Prairie Provinces. It contains all of the standard and reliable varieties which have been grown in Canada successfully in past seasons and, in addition, includes a large number of new varieties, which, according to tests, are thoroughly adaptable to the Canadian soil and climate, and will add further variety to garden crops.

Included is a Sand Cherry, a juicy, blue fruit, used for pies, jams and preserves. The small tree, or bush, on which it grows, is hardy and has been especially bred for adaptability to Canadian conditions.

This is the second year McKenzie's catalogue has listed commercial offerings of Crested Wheat Grass, which is expected to solve, in large measure, the feed problem of Western Canada, because of its hardiness and its resistance to drought.

To inspire interest in the World's Grain Exhibition and Conference, which is scheduled for Regina July 24 to August 5, the Company announces in its catalogue two contests in which $5,215 in cash prizes will be awarded for letters relating to the Exhibition, for predictions of total attendance, and so on.

43 PIGS IN TWO LITTERS

A purebred Yorkshire sow has just farrowed a litter of 23 pigs at the experimental station, Lacombe.

This same sow farrowed 20 pigs in her last litter, making a total of 43 pigs in two litters.
It is rather unfortunate that such large litters usually lack in uniformity and vigor, the truth of the matter is that they are seldom as satisfactory as a normal sized litter of 12 to 15 pigs.

A farmer brought some produce to the city and sold it. Thought he "will surprise my wife." He brought a suit of clothes, a hat and a pair of shoes, and put them under the back seat. On his way home he stopped at the river, took off all his old clothes and threw them in. Then he looked under the seat for his new outfit. They were gone. Finally he got into the buggy and said, "Glad, Maude—we'll surprise her anyhow."

Canadian Pacific Railway engineers announced they had voluntarily reduced their mileage from 4,600 for passenger at 4,300 for freight to 4,000 and 3,200 respectively, following a ballot-taking among members of the local union. The action follows the recent reduction in mileage by the firemen in an effort to distribute work and give employment to jobless union members.

Votes for Indians made a troublesome question in the house of commons on Tuesday, a bill to enfranchise them eliciting sharp differences of opinion and being finally held up.

U.F.W.A. FORM OFFICERS' CLUB

An association unusual in the history of women's clubs was recently formed in connection with the United Farm Women of Alberta, following the January convention. It embraces all officers who have held executive positions in the organization, and those who from time to time retire from such positions.

There had been a growing conviction among the membership of the U.F.W.A. that a recognized standing in the organization should be accorded past officers, in order that their training and experience might be utilized for the benefit of the movement—hence the step taken.

The purpose of such association are stated thus: (1) to keep alive the traditions and memories of the association; (2) to stimulate enthusiasm in the work; (3) to lend active and moral support to those engaged in carrying on the work of the organization as the opportunity presents itself; (4) to preserve throughout the continuity of purpose.

Two revellers, arm-in-arm, were making poor progress on their homeward journey after a Christmas party. They were proceeding up a tree-lined avenue and every tree proved a serious obstacle. At last they reached a seat. One of them sank into it exhausted, pulling the other with him.

"It's no use, of man," he said mournfully. "Might as well wait here till this confounded porcheson's gone by."

A correspondent says he would like to know the exact number of people in this country who don't play bridge. To start him off, we'll give him the name of the gentleman who was our partner the other night.

Valley Filling Station

FIRST PRIZE LETTER

The following letter was awarded first prize by the judges in the recent contest conducted by the Valley Filling Station, on "Why I use a Turned Valley Gas in my car, tractor and small engine."

313 East Railway St., Wetaskiwin.

Dear Sir:

In your advert, re "Why I use Turned Valley Gas," I would like to give my views on that. Firstly, I must say I use Turned Valley refined gas in my car (when the roads are open for cars), and find it gives me much satisfaction in mileage and speed as with any other product. Secondly, when I use Turned Valley Gas, I am using an Alberta product, and one of our own natural resources, and which also helps to keep many of our men in this province in employment.

I have also used the raw gas at intervals and have had good results there, but in my business the smell is the only drawback, as I handle food products.

Now, when we can get a gas like Turned Valley, to do the same work as any other well-known product, at the price it is given for (and price and quality is a very important item these times), I think we should use more of it and patronize an Alberta product, and help keep our own men in employment.

Yours truly,

JAS. CROWE.

FUTURE CANADIAN TURKEY

Mr. W. A. Brown of the dominion live stock branch has returned from Great Britain where he was associated with the marketing of the Christmas trade of about 90,000 fat poultry. The shipment, which consisted mostly of turkeys, went over in chilled instead of the usual frozen condition, therefore came in direct competition with the home killed rather than imported stock. He reports that because of the quality and attractive presentation of the shipment, which was sold chiefly in London, the stock immediately attracted the attention of the wholesalers and was quickly sold at favorable prices. He was given the assurance of the trade that a shipment of equal quality for the next Christmas season could easily be doubled in quantity without overstocking the market.

WHEN TO STOP ADVERTISING

When to stop advertising? Here is the answer.

When every man has become so thoroughly a creature of habit that he will certainly buy this year where he bought last year. When young and fresher concerns in your line cease starting up and using the newspapers in telling the people how much better they can do for them than you can. When nobody else thinks "it pays to advertise." When the population ceases to multiply and the generations that crowd after you, and never heard of you, come on. When you have convinced everybody whose life will touch yours, that you have better goods and lower prices than they can get anywhere outside of your store. When you perceive it to be the rule that men who never do and never did advertise are outstripping their neighbors in the same line of business. When men stop making fortunes right in your sight, solely through the discreet use of this mighty agent. When you can forget the words of the shrewd and most successful business men concerning the main cause of their prosperity.

THEY ALL ADVERTISE

A hen is not supposed to have much common sense or tact. Yet every time she lays an egg she cackles forth the fact.

A rooster hasn't got a lot of intellect to show. But none the less most roosters have enough good sense to crow.

The mule, the most despised of beasts. Has a persistent way of letting folks know he's around by his insistent bray.

The busy little bees they buzz. Bulls bellow and cow moo. The watch dog barks, the ganders quack.

And doves and pigeons coo. The peacock spreads his tail and squawks. Pigs squeal and robins sing. And even serpents know enough To hiss before they sting.

But man, the greatest masterpiece That nature could devise, Will often stop and hesitate Before he'll advertise.

The dance ended and the young man took his partner down to the supper room. The girl seemed to have an extraordinary effect upon the waiter, who appeared incapable of taking his eyes off her.

At last the young man could stand it no longer. "Look here, my man," he said to the waiter, "what makes you stare so rudely at this lady?"

The waiter gave a gulp before replying. Then he said: "It ain't rudeness, sir. It's genuine admiration. This is the fifth time she's been down to supper."

JUSTICE IN OTTAWA

For the first time in sixty-four years, the capital penalty was extracted in Ottawa recently in the case of a young Canadian convicted of murder in connection with a robbery. Hearing this and knowing modern newspaper technique as it has developed in the United States, an American visualizes immediately the sensational headlines that the Ottawa press must have placed over the numerous columns of reading matter devoted to complete descriptions of the hanging and of the history of the case.

There were no sensational headlines. There were no photographs of the murderer eating his last meal, nor of his sobbing relatives, nor of the fateful scaffold, nor of the victim. No citizens of Ottawa were quoted on their opinions of the event. No morbid crowds gathered about the prison. Not one word had been printed about the case during the three months between the man's conviction and his execution.

The two newspapers of Ottawa printed each 800 words about the hanging, in stories independently placed. It is fitting to name those two newspapers: the Ottawa Journal and the Ottawa Citizen. In reporting the story in the manner they did, rejecting the sensational methods of the press of the United States, they have upheld the worthiest standards of journalism. And by refusing to portray murder as the melodramatic spectacle that the press in the United States has to its disgrace depicted it, they have rendered a good and great service to their community.—Christian Science Monitor.

The first of a group of 200 new prospectors taking a training course at Victoria, B.C., under the department of mines, will start for Cariboo and other British Columbia gold fields within the next ten days. Among the number are women, some of them wives, who will accompany their husband prospectors, and the others young women seeking a career and riches. Most of the men taking the course are business and professional men displaced by the depression.

The Town of Raymond issued $10,198 of scrip in 1932, all of which came back to the town in payment of civic services except $98.96 which was redeemed in cash on January 15, 1933. Scrip is to be issued this year for school payments in addition to town payments as last year.

RELIEF IN TORONTO

Mayor Stewart is credited with the statement that one-seventh of the population of Toronto is on direct relief. This means not only that the taxpayers will have a huge relief bill to pay in the current year, but also that many of them will not be able to pay their share of it.

For if one-seventh of the population is on direct relief, there is a further formidable number who are just on the edge of relief — managing to keep financially afloat, but contracting bills which they cannot at present pay, going behind in their rents, and otherwise lowering the financial vitality of those who have business dealings with them. These in turn are embarrassed because of uncollectable or uncollected debts, and are in no shape to meet an increased tax rate. — Toronto Star.

THE MUNICIPAL SECRETARY

The secretary in a great majority of cases is the man who really keeps the machinery of a municipality in operation. Every year or so new men are elected to positions in the council. They must secure instruction and guidance from someone and this someone is usually the secretary. A councillor or alderman is moved up to the reeve's or mayor's chair and he is "green" about his new duties. The secretary sets him right and usually keeps him that way. Municipal councils couldn't get started and keep going without the secretary. He is the "power behind the throne." And if he has tact and good judgment and uses common sense the municipality is generally given credit for having a good council. — St. Thomas Times-Journal.

Final Figures on Sugar Beets

The final statistics on the production of sugar beets in Alberta during the 1932 season demonstrates how successful the past season was in this regard, establishing the high-water mark in the industry and its importance to the districts concerned. The total production in tons was 150,731 tons, from 13,329 acres, an average of 10.8 tons per acre. The average price paid the farmers per ton finally worked out at $8.20, which made a total revenue to the farmers of $954,532.20, not very short of a round million. The production in the different districts contributing to the factory at Raymond was:

Lethbridge area, 4,750 acres, 49,378.3 tons; Raymond, 4,540 acres, 44,678 tons; other areas, 4,639 acres, 56,674.3 tons.

The last area figure is made up chiefly of the district surrounding the town of Taber. The total quantity of sugar produced was 35,866,000 lbs., in addition to which there was 30,000 tons of beet pulp and 1,350 tons of betanines. It is estimated that, considering the amount paid farmers for beets, the amount spent in freight, labor, etc., a total of nearly $1,500,000 was distributed in the territory concerned.

ated. People lose faith in politicians who oppose for the sole purpose of regaining or retaining power regardless of truth, honesty or sincerity. This type of cheap party butchery has not only disgraced the Liberal and Conservative parties in Canada, but has actually sickened thinking people of the whole stage-play of party politics.

It would appear that Mr. Howson is a true son of the Liberal party (so called) and an evaluation of his statesmanship will inevitably be determined by an appraisal of his paternal organization.

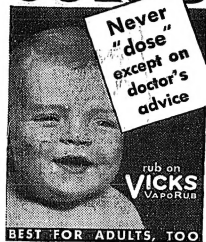

What promise does present-day Liberalism (so-called) give to Canada? To begin with, the name as applied to the party is an anachronism. The Liberal movement is no longer liberal. In its inception the party only reflected the progressive thought of early Canadian history. But today Liberalism is only liberal when not in power. We can pay some tribute to the Conservative party which makes no apologies for its conservatism. It frankly and openly stands for special privilege and is courageous enough to recommend "the iron heel of ruthlessness" for any infidel traitor who dares to question its infallibility. But a political party which marches under the banner of Liberalism while avowedly conservative in outlook is just another exemplification of the disintegration which Liberalism is undergoing and which, according to Lloyd George has completed its work in England. Proof of this can be found in the recent divisions of the provincial government and the federal government. In Edmonton Tories and Grits joined forces to defeat U.F.A. and Labor. At Ottawa the old parties joined in their opposition of the C.C.F. Liberalism in Canada is rapidly becoming a dilapidated annex to the Conservative party.

Mr. Howson's high-pressure salesmanship would have proved invaluable in promoting Beauchamp's big business. His potentialities are unlimited. We, at least of the younger set, are demanding a more efficient and effective approach to political and economic problems than have hitherto been applied. In place of the senility and sterility of methods and policies which were open to reproach at a quarter of a century ago, we seek an application of the scientific method to our social arrangements. For anarchy we would substitute planning. We have lost confidence in the Bennetts and the Kings and the Howsons, and are turning to the C.C.F.

Mr. Howson's "home saving" delirium is an invitation to inquire into the cause of these abnormal fears—these grotesque fantasies of the mind. He says in part, "The Liberal party would not agree to the province taking over the title to every man's farm and every working cottage. In the three prairie provinces we have respectively a Liberal, a Conservative and a U.F.A. government. Is there any doubt as to which province has done the most to protect the owner of farm or cottage from the mortgagee? The C. C. F. platform stands for "security of tenure for the farmer on his land and for the worker in his home." Does Mr. Howson's interpretation convey the true impression? Is Mr. Howson aware that New Zealand adopted a policy of socialization of land as early as 1895 and has guaranteed security of tenure by prohibiting mortgages on the land? Moreover New Zealand is noted for its state and municipal ownership of public utilities and other socialistic reforms. If anyone doubted the feasibility of such a plan, let him inquire into the relative positions of Canadian and New Zealand farmers and laborers. Furthermore, the best governed and most progressive countries in Europe have socialized premises. These countries are Denmark and Sweden and they make a striking contrast to some of their neighboring states.

If Mr. Howson sincerely believes that the U.F.A. government is responsible for the present economic and social conditions of Alberta, as implied in his speech, he is doing the cause of Liberalism far more harm than any outsider can ever hope to do. An honest search for the causes of the contemporary misery of the country will ultimately and inevitably lead to defects inherent in our political and economic system. Such "honest search" has, of course, usu-

Century. While the watchwords of the French Revolution "liberty," "equality," "fraternity" were still echoing around the world, the guardians of embryonic capitalism in England were vigorously protesting against any interference by government in industrial pursuits. This "laissez faire" philosophy was justified by Adam Smith and his followers on the ground that it would yield the three social benefits of justice, freedom and wealth to the maximum degree. And Smith regarded government interference as "a manifest encroachment upon the just liberty both of the workman and those who might be disposed to employ him." Kirby Page, editor of "The World Tomorrow," quotes the contemporary clergyman, Archbishop Whately, as saying, "It is curious to observe how through the wise and beneficent arrangement of Providence, men thus do the greatest service to the public when they are thinking of nothing but their own gain." Unrestrained competition was regarded as a sacred right of the individual and was given final authority by calling it "inevitable economic law." Moreover, "laissez faire" was given further support by the pseudo-Darwinism as propounded by Nietzsche. This totally unbalanced philosophy of the law of the jungle which failed to take cognizance of the fundamental tendencies of the evolutionary processes of mutual aid and the cooperative struggle with nature eventually placed the seal of authority upon the capitalist profit economy.

However, in our modern system, or as Keynes would say, "our congeries of possession and pursuers" instead of the "wholesome competition" of which the classical economists wrote, we have "prize masquerading as competition." Reeve, who certainly does not reflect any left wing tendencies among modern economists, says that "the old individualistic philosophy is now as discredited in modern scientific sociology as it was nineteen centuries ago in the philosophy taught from the Cross."

We are living in the age of the radio and the photo-electric cell, and yet insofar as our economic philosophies are concerned we are still dragging along with outcast methods. But "hope springs eternal in the human breast." Our ship of state may yet be freed from the barnacles of economic conservatism and again launch out upon the broad sea of true progress.

The human race is painfully yet surely extricating itself from the fetters of orthodox superstitions. Bruno burned at the stake for asserting the helio-centric theory of the universe. Galileo escaped a similar fate only by recanting his statement of Bruno's theory. And today the earth rotates upon its axis without an ecclesiastical murmur. Pentalism and slavery were eradicated only after a long and bitter struggle against the dignitaries of infallibility. Darwinian Cosmology was regarded until a few decades ago, as arch heresy. But perhaps Mr. Howson will have served some purpose in the eternal scheme of things. The holy men who burned Bruno have served a purpose in history if nothing more than to stand out in contrast against the old scientist as the forces of darkness stand out against the force of light in the dawn of human enlightenment.

Perhaps business is dragging for the want of a helping hand, or a little more capital. Men with money and men with brains read this paper. You can reach them through our Classified Want Ads.

---and add this to your profits

NO ONE can deny a man the right to spend his dollar where he may choose. It is his privilege to make his dollar produce the utmost in value. The decision as to where that value is to be found is, whether right or wrong, his to make. A tip on how to make the dollar go farther is permissible, however, and we suggest that you think about this:

THE LOWEST PRICE does not always mean the best buy. Comparative quality and many other things enter into the transaction. But let us take two identical articles ---one here, at home---the other out of town. Let's suppose the out-of-town price is lower delivered to your door by 5c or 75c than the purchase you can make at home. But it is not the most economical buy. That money is gone for good; it will never return to you; whereas if spent at home---well, here's an illustration:

A SHOEMAN owes a baker $2.00 and gives him $1.00, thus discharging fifty per cent of his debt. The baker owes a farmer $2.00 for potatoes, so he pays the farmer half his debt with the dollar. The farmer purchases a pair of $2.00 shoes, paying $1.00 down. The shoeman uses the dollar to cancel his debt to the baker, the baker to the farmer, and the farmer pays for his shoes. The shoeman has paid his debt, made a sale and still has his original capital. So have the baker and farmer. That's COMMUNITY business. Three persons have made a profit on $1.00 and it's still in the community to make more.

COMMUNICATION

[We do not necessarily endorse the sentiments advanced by this or any other correspondent under this heading.—Ed.]

Editor, The Times.

Dear Sir:

In the last issue of your paper, under the heading "Library Notes," I noticed that in order to secure funds to enable the library to remain open suggestions were made to the public for assistance, even the sympathetic and good nature of the over-generous proprietor of the Audien Theatre, Ald. R. J. Grant, appears to have been appealed to for a portion of his takings from the theatre on some future night, which takings, as we all know, must scarcely meet overhead expenses during these abnormal times.

As a patron of the library I would sincerely regret to see it closed entirely. But, by all that is high and holy, I fail to see the necessity of keeping this institution open six days of the week under existing conditions. In my opinion there appears no sane reason why the patrons of this library cannot be adequately served on two afternoons a week, say Wednesday and Saturday afternoons. And I am strongly of the opinion that this work could conveniently be handled by one of the present City Office staff and save the library some six hundred dollars a year. If this could not be satisfactorily arranged, there would be no difficulties encountered in securing a number of some ratepayer's family to take over the duties for two afternoons a week.

Yours,

A PATRON.

APPRECIATION

Ernest H. Switzer desires through "The Times" to express his sincere thanks to all those who supported him at the election on Saturday last.

APPRECIATION

I wish to thank the Ratepayers of the Municipality of Mont-Deserres for their support in my re-election. I will at all times welcome any suggestion for furthering the interests of the community.

RICHARD BALHORN.

POLICE COURT

Jonathan (alias Joseph) Kroening of near Hobbema, was arraigned before Police Magistrate R. M. Angus on a charge of false pretences by way of a worthless chattel mortgage. He was given one year hard labor in the provincial gaol at Port Saskatchewan.

The offence dates back to 1930, when Kroening caused or induced Rosenroll Limited of Wetaskiwin, to execute and accept as valuable a chattel mortgage for $343.95 as security for endorsing a note at the bank. On securing the money from the bank Kroening left for the United States. When the mortgage was presented for registration, it was discovered that the same chattel had been mortgaged to a man in Camrose seven days previous to the Wetaskiwin mortgage and registered at Camrose. Further investigations disclosed the fact that Kroening did not own all the chattels given by him as security.

Kroening recently returned to the district and was arrested by Const. R. N. Crouch, R.C.M.P., and brought before the Court to answer to the charge. The case was prosecuted by R. W. Manley, K.C.

Samuel Turchinsky of near Falun, pleaded guilty to stealing a quantity of trees from the farm of Richard Reuser a neighbor. He was assessed costs amounting to $11.25 and ordered to return the eight loads of logs to the place where they were taken from, or in default, 30 days in the provincial gaol.

C.G.I.T. ACTIVITIES

On Monday Feb. 27th, the Golden Glow C.G.I.T. group were most kindly entertained at the home of Mrs. Scofield. The girls sat down to a delicious supper at 6:15. After supper was over, the regular meeting took its usual form. It was decided to sell stars to raise funds for our financial campaign. After a general song-song, Mrs. Scofield gave a charming talk on the city of Paris, which she once visited. Many beautiful photographs were shown as illustrations. The meeting closed with the favorite goodnight song "Taps." Each girl reported having had a delightful evening.

On Monday, Feb. 26th, the Golden Glow C.G.I.T. group met for their regular meeting in the United Church. After the customary opening, the business was discussed. The financial campaign was the main topic of business, and many means of raising money were advocated. We then had the pleasure of being schooled in the art of hand-ping by Dr. Stevenson. The process was very interesting and helpful to the girls. Before the singing of "Taps" the girls indulged in a few moments of physical jags.
